Winds and Waves Online Recorder Workshop
"Music by the Sea"

The Sitka team has been looking forward to helping Winds and Waves participants make music together again this coming Spring. This year due to state guided health and safety precautions to prevent the spread of COVID-19, Winds and Waves will take place virtually. Connect with us online for three wonderful days of "Music by the Sea" with instructors Letitia Berlin, Frances Blaker, Vicki Boeckman and Clea Galhano.

Join us as we celebrate the 22nd anniversary of Winds and Waves through glorious music. Clea, Vicki, Tish and Frances will lead you through all manner of music from Medieval to Modern. Two daily class periods offer choices of topics to suit recorder players from intermediate to advanced levels. Each topic will meet all three days, enabling musical development for each participant. Each session will be followed by a Special Event each day: "Happy Hour" and "Large Group Playing Session"; a "Faculty Concert"; and lastly the "Winds and Waves Open Mic" - play a tune, recite a poem or showcase original music. These events will enable us all to enjoy our collective company, reminisce over past Winds and Waves workshops, and share ideas for when we can all be together in the future!

Morning session (3 days, 3 classes): $75

Afternoon session (3 days, 3 classes): $75

Special events (3 days, 3 events): $50

Concert only: $15

Entire workshop: $180 (10% discount for entire workshop)
